

PROFESSIONAL MEN SHOULD BE HEARD

Man of Unquestioned Integrity Indorses Remarkable Tonic. Professor Southern Industrial Institute.

The following testimonial is from a professional man living in Charlotte, N. C., being in fact one of its leading citizens. Prof. L. E. Kirby, teacher of mathematics at the Industrial Institute. The condition to which this man was reduced was a matter of universal comment throughout the Carolinas. Suffering as he did from stomach trouble and indigestion. He exhausted the very best medical talent to be found in both states. His cure was the talk of everyone who knew him. Now this man holds a position second to none in his chosen profession in this city and beginning this fall will teach at Glenwood College at Gastonia. He writes:

"I cannot say too much in praise of Globe Tonic, for I suffered over three years from indigestion. My indigestion gradually developed into chronic dysentery and from this I suffered for over a year. I took poppers before I ate, bismuth after, and pancreatin between times but nothing reached my stomach, and no one can realize how I have suffered. I stumbled across Globe Tonic in the latter part of September, 1912, by accident while I was at the Baptist University at Greenville, S. C., and three bottles entirely relieved me and since I have been the means of leading many others into the new light which I have found. I will always help you all I can in my individual capacity, all that need be is to have a person try it, the medicine will commend itself, for it is a certain winner. I recommend Globe Tonic to all sufferers of indigestion and stomach trouble."

TENNESSEE SELECTMEN TO GO TO CAMP GORDON

Camp Greenleaf Draws Draftees From Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma.

Washington, June 26.—As a further step in carrying out the war department's plan to have 3,000,000 men under arms on Aug. 1, Provost Marshal General Crowder last night called on the governors of all states, except Arizona and Illinois, for the mobilization between July 23 and 25, of 250,000 white draft registrants qualified for general military service. This call is expected virtually to exhaust the number of men now in class 1 available for active military service, and when added to school requisitions of 23,236 men brings the total calls so far announced, for July to 244,436. To complete its program for the remainder of the present year, the department will have to depend on the 400,000 class 1 registrants expected from the June 5 enrollment and the 250,000 or 300,000 to be obtained through the reclassification now in progress.

In the call announced last night New York leads the list with 22,341 men; Iowa is second with 17,824 and Wisconsin third, with 15,200. The state quotas and camp assignments include: Alabama—2,900, Camp Hancock, Ga. Colorado—1,100, Camp Travis, Tex. Florida—1,000, Camp Greenleaf, Ga. Georgia—3,025, Camp Gordon, Ga. CITY OF PARIS IS NOT TO BE EVACUATED

Man Close to the Clemenceau Circles, When Asked if It Was to Be, Said "No."

(Copyright, 1918, by New York World.) Paris.—Proof of the great confidence which the French government has in its soldiers and in the commanders and also of Germany's inability to capture Paris, is found in a word uttered by a person close to the Clemenceau circles, who when asked if Paris was to be evacuated emphatically replied "no." The question was asked following the authorities' decision not to crowd the suburban munition factories. This was taken as a means of preventing further catastrophes in event of a German bombardment from closer range than now prevails. An example of the terrible results possible should a shell hit a factory was given in the case of the recent catastrophe at La Courneuve, a small suburb north of Paris. It was here that a huge quantity of hand grenades exploded, shaking the whole of Paris and breaking windows in many parts of the capital. Scores lost their lives, while many houses were blown to pieces. Paris itself remains calm, almost indifferent, with no remembrance to the dark days of August, 1914.

VON SEYDLER DECLINES TO FORM NEW CABINET

As Urged by Emperor Charles. Kaiser Informed of New Turn in Affairs.

(Associated Press.) London, June 26.—Baron Von Seydler, the Austrian premier, announced on Monday that he had declined the invitation of Emperor Charles to constitute a new cabinet, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. The premier's decision was announced at a meeting of the crown council in Vienna at which the food situation, which was unanimously recognized as critical, was discussed. Emperor Charles announced that he was personally addressing Emperor William in connection with that situation.

PREDICTS HARDSHIPS ON SMALL PAPERS

Representative Johnson Wants to Postpone Effective Date of Postal Zoning System.

(International News Service.) Washington, June 26.—Hopes of newspaper and magazine publishers that they would succeed in having the effective date of the postal zoning system postponed from July 1, this year, to July 1, 1919, to permit an impartial investigation and scientific calculation of rates, vanished today. Only pressure from the White House would move the majority of the ways and means committee of the house to report out a resolution that would act as a stay and that pressure, it was realized, will not be forthcoming. "When the system has been in effect six months it will have proved itself."

MAINE SHOEMAKER

Tired All Time. Did Not Want to Work. How He Regained Strength. Sanford, Maine.—I suffered so much from a run-down, nervous condition and stomach trouble that I never felt like working and had tried almost everything without relief. The first bottle of Vinol, however, helped me and it has built me up so I feel better than I have for a long time. —Chester D. Haines. There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success to beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones, and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body building and strength creating tonics. For sale by Jo Anderson and druggists everywhere. (Adv.)

and its repeal will be impossible," Chairman Kitchen said. "The publishers know that and that is why they want it postponed." Representative Johnson, of Washington, a newspaper publisher, predicted, on the other hand, that there will be confusion all over the country in postoffices and newspaper and magazine offices when the system goes into effect next Monday.

Publishers still hoped today that they would be successful in securing minor changes in the law that will make it less cumbersome. One of these changes would be to permit the proportion of advertising to news matter to be estimated by the month instead of by the day, and another would figure the adoption of other numbers in figuring proportions, rather than odd figures. "Leading democrats on the ways and means committee have been successful in getting this plan over as a revenue measure, after it had failed on its merits," Johnson, of Washington, said. "As a matter of fact, it will bring in only a few million dollars, which will not make up the second-class deficit, and it will put hundreds of small newspapers out of business."

INCOMES FACE HEAVY NEW TAX

The Sum of Six Billion-Dollars Must Be Raised by New Law.

(By Gilson Gardner, N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.) Washington, June 26.—The hearings of the revenue bill now going on will have little or nothing to do with the character of the bill as reported. A member of the ways and means committee recently described them as "letting the safety valve blow off." The bill, as reported by members of the ways and means committee of the house for the purpose of drafting a bill will begin in a week or ten days, and a bill will be reported about the middle of July.

There is only one source from which the tax can be secured in the tremendous amounts needed to wage the war. War profits and incomes must be taxed heavily. By taxing these, since most of the war profits are used to buy luxuries. The president has asked for a revenue bill which will raise eight billion dollars. The committee will probably compromise on a bill which will raise six billion.

Where is this money coming from? The total income of the United States was estimated by the treasury department in 1917 at sixty billion dollars. It is proposed to take in taxation almost one-eighth of this total industrial income. To do this taxes must take from 60 to 80 per cent. of the profits made in the industry. From the figure of the commissioner of internal revenue it appears that in 1916 there were 429,421 persons or head of families making a net taxable income of $3000 or over. The total income of businesses conducted by corporations in 1916 was approximately $11,750,000,000. In 1917 the corporate returns amounted to a taxable net income of $8,693,841,327. In other words, if all the net income of all the corporations will probably be taken, it would produce just enough revenue to meet the demands of the present legislation. From this enormous corporate revenue, the government must take last year by the income tax only $173,876,826.

BURIAN INVITES GREAT BRITAIN TO LEARN THE AIMS OF GERMANY

Replying to Charge by Lord Milner That She Seeks to Dominate the World, He Says it Would Be Found That the "Real Aims" Are "Far Removed" From That.

(Copyright, 1918, New York World.) London.—Reports from the World correspondent at Amsterdam that Baron Burian, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, had begun a peace offensive, details of which were at first lacking, are now learned to be based on an interview he gave to a representative of the Vienna Fremdenblatt, replying to a speech made by Lord Milner on June 14, warning against a premature peace which would leave Germany her power. Baron Burian denies that Germany, as charged by Lord Milner, seeks to dominate the world, invites Lord Milner to "make a sincere attempt to enlighten further enlightenment" and says he will find the real aims of the central powers "far removed from those which our opponents seek to misrepresent as ours."

Burian's Statement.

The baron's statement follows in full: "Lord Milner's speech once again affords a deep insight into the psychology of our enemies. In it expression is given to our opponents' desire to represent the war aim of the central powers as an emanation of an intent to ward one another until a victorious end is achieved. "One might quote once more the oft-heard expression, 'Only the stupidest calves themselves choose their own slaughterers.' We have happily long had what Lord Milner praises in the entente, the valuable possession of the moral unity of allies devoted to one common cause. We will bear our burden in common and be consistent toward one another until a victorious end is achieved. "As regards the alleged efforts of the central powers to secure world domination and their desire to wage through ever wider seas of blood, let Lord Milner for once make a sincere attempt to obtain further enlightenment on this point. He will be astonished how tremendously far our aims are removed from those which our opponents again and again seek to misrepresent to the world as ours and which they hold up as bogies. "I agree with Lord Milner straight away that these aims seemed to us to be unattainable, but I can assure him there are no persons of sound common sense in the central countries (and here, despite Lord Milner, Austria-Hungary may assuredly speak in the name of Germany) who would have set before themselves such aims even in the wildest of dreams."

SPITZBERGEN, THE ARCTIC ELDORADO, GOAL FOR WHICH HUN HAS SET HIS CAP

London (by mail).—Agitation has been started in England to prevent Germany's war lords and steel magnates from getting control of Spitzbergen, the El Dorado of the Arctic.

Should Germany be forced to give up Alsace-Lorraine, with its coal and iron deposits, a far richer prize, although more distant, would be won should her plunder-bund get possession of Spitzbergen, a group of islands lying about 1,000 miles north of Norway and 3,000 miles east of Greenland. The territory of 24,000 square miles has 2,000 square miles of known coal and iron deposits. If Germany's influence in Russia prevails, the acquisition of Spitzbergen would be the next logical step toward further economic domination of Russia and Scandinavia. Germany contends that Spitzbergen is "No Man's Land," its status having been so fixed by an international conference at Christiania in 1914. However, before the war, Norway and Russia informally were discussing the future of this territory.

STORES IN GERMANY FOR HER SOLDIERS

Her Loan of 5,000 Tons to Austria From Army Supply Reveals This Condition.

(By Cyril Brown.) (Copyright, 1918, by New York World.) Amsterdam.—Gen. Ludendorff's decision to lend to Austria 5,000 tons of grain out of the food reserves of the German army reveals significantly the fact that there are no grain reserves whatever for the civilian population of Germany.

This action, coupled with the demand for a speedy repayment of the loan, strengthens the recent admissions by conservative members of the Prussian parliament of the unsatisfactory outlook of Germany's food supply.

No Security for Food Supply. Dr. Hoersch said: "We have been unable so far to obtain the absolute security of the nation's food supply. We have a steady falling off of production. Things can not continue as heretofore. For supplies we must look to Russia, and particularly to the Ukraine. Unfortunately, Great Russia is a sharp competitor with us for the food in the Ukraine, and the possibility of obtaining further supplies from Rumania is slender."

The speaker aired the fact that much had been resulted among the German peasantry from the ruthless military confiscation of the last remnants of flour, grain and seed. Peasants' huts, farms and barns in many cases have been subjected to the indignity of military occupation by German troops.

Regarding the situation in the Ukraine, the Cologne Gazette learns from official sources that "law and order now are quite good in Kiev, though the surroundings are still insecure. The Austrians' present flour shortage is due to the disappointment caused by Bessarabia. There are still great food supplies in the Ukraine, but the peasants refuse to sell because they have money to burn."

Moreover, organization for getting Ukrainian grain takes time to create. The regulation of the ground question is under way, the crop outlook is not bad. Our military are beloved in the Ukraine, even by the common man."

This "official source" finds it necessary to add that the relations between the military and political leadership in the Ukraine are good. Ludendorff General Dictator. Austria's appeal for food to Ludendorff has revealed that general not only as the virtual military and political dictator of Germany but as the economic and food dictator as well. Ludendorff today has the last word in the disposition of Germany's food, as he has of her human material and other resources.

When Lord Milner refers to Germany as her victim, he is himself doing what he has just said he would not do when he says that attempts are being made on the part of the central powers to incite one allied nation against another.

"Now, with us we will not succeed in this. The German yoke is for Austria-Hungary the yoke of mutual rocklike friendship and complete consideration for the interests of both parties. Otherwise the relationship between Austria-Hungary and Germany would not be possible for one moment. "One might quote once more the oft-heard expression, 'Only the stupidest calves themselves choose their own slaughterers.' We have happily long had what Lord Milner praises in the entente, the valuable possession of the moral unity of allies devoted to one common cause. We will bear our burden in common and be consistent toward one another until a victorious end is achieved. "As regards the alleged efforts of the central powers to secure world domination and their desire to wage through ever wider seas of blood, let Lord Milner for once make a sincere attempt to obtain further enlightenment on this point. He will be astonished how tremendously far our aims are removed from those which our opponents again and again seek to misrepresent to the world as ours and which they hold up as bogies. "I agree with Lord Milner straight away that these aims seemed to us to be unattainable, but I can assure him there are no persons of sound common sense in the central countries (and here, despite Lord Milner, Austria-Hungary may assuredly speak in the name of Germany) who would have set before themselves such aims even in the wildest of dreams."

Historically and financially, the islands are British. In the order of King James I, never annulled, Spitzbergen was annexed for the Muscovy Company. From 1614 to 1870 the British occupied the southern half of the main island. But twenty-three square miles are controlled by Germany. Interests, while 4,000 square miles are claimed by British enterprise. Five months a year the seas are open and the land is but sixty to seventy-two hours by plane to Scotland. The group is looked upon as the future fuel supplying centre of Scandinavian countries and north Russia. There are huge accumulations of loose ore broken off by erosion from the main deposits, less than 1 1/2 miles from the coast. The islands are habitable year around. Should Germany get control of the land, which already has humorously been dubbed "Fritz-bergen," she would have a great ore supply for ship building. Control of the territory would mean domination of the trade routes of the Arctic. However, the British fleet may have something to say about the matter.

Austrian social democracy is falling in line with this action to save the parliament and prevent a ministerial crisis. Importance is attached to the arrival of the first freight train from Russia to Germany with forty-three carloads of "brown bread" for Russian prisoners in Germany. Germany, incidentally, is doing everything possible to hold Russian prisoners, without whose agricultural labor a food catastrophe would be certain.

Many Russian prisoners are by no means as eager to continue working in Germany as the authorities seek to make it appear. In the Prussian province of Pomerania, Herr Blum, said significantly that "the question of agricultural labor is becoming acute, as the Russians are beginning to run away in large numbers."

From Finland it is understood that Germany has obtained nothing so far except what the German troops picked up in a junk gathering expedition. Significant of Germany's far-sighted and widely ramified economic propaganda among nearby neutrals is the organization in Berlin of the German-Swedish Economic union, whose membership is composed of German and Swedish firms with close connections and common interests.

Freight traffic between Germany and Petrograd has been resumed for the present via Stockholm. The Frankfurter Gazette learns also that commercial freight can now be shipped by steamer from German Baltic ports to the principal Baltic ports of Finland, direct steamers running several times weekly.

PERJURY CHARGE HELD; COL. MARTIN DISMISSED

(Associated Press.) Washington, June 26.—Dismissal of Col. Amos H. Martin of the 157th depot brigade, after trial by military court-martial at Camp Gordon, Ga., was announced yesterday by the war department. Col. Martin was accused of perjury at the trial of a former officer and of gross immorality. He was convicted on both charges, but in reviewing the sentence President Wilson reversed the finding of the court-martial as to the latter.

TORNADO TAKES TOLL OF FIVE LIVES IN MISSOURI

Unionville, Mo., June 26.—A tornado which swept down from Green City, Mo., late Tuesday night took a toll of five lives, injured a number of others and destroyed many dwellings, barns and other property. Owing to crippled wire communication as a result of the storm it was impossible to verify reports of the damage done until a late hour this afternoon.

New American Ace Downs Five Hun Planes in Day

Sgt. David E. Putnam, of Newton, Mass., brought down five Hun aircraft on the western front on June 10. Three of these victories are officially corroborated, while the other two are under investigation. If the five victories are officially credited, Sgt. Putnam's record stands at a total of fifteen planes, which supplants Lieut. Frank Baylies, of New Bedford, Mass., as the Ace of American Aces. His record of five planes in one day has been beaten only once, when Lieut. Rene Fonck, a French ace, downed six planes in a day.

"OUR FIRST DUTY IS TO WIN THIS WAR"

VIENNA PLACES ITALIAN LOSSES TOTAL 150,000

Vienna, via London, Tuesday, June 25.—The Italian losses since the Austrian offensive began have amounted to 150,000 men at the lowest estimate, says the Austrian official communication issued today. Since June 15 more than 50,000 prisoners, among them about 1,100 officers, have been taken, the statement adds. The text of the communication follows: "In the Montello region and south of it the enemy is feeling his way to the Piave with patrols. In the San Dona di Piave district, covering troops which are protecting the crossing of our divisions have had to ward off strong attacks during the last few days. "Here also we have been able to hurry out our movement in accordance with plans and without loss of material. "Since June 15 the Italians have lost more than 50,000 prisoners, including 1,100 officers. The total losses of the enemy, at the lowest estimate, amount to 150,000 men. "Yesterday the mountain front between the Asiatic plateau and the Piave again was the theater of violent battles. The enemy did his utmost to recapture the hill positions lost June 15. During the greater part of the day there was bitter fighting on the Monte di Val Bella, the Col del Rosso, Asolone, Solapolo and Monte Pertica. "The Italians were thrown back everywhere, at several places by counter-attacks."

ICE CREAM MAN TELLS HIS STORY

Could Find No Relief From His Suffering.

Feels Like a New Man Since Taking Tanlac.

Everybody in His Neighborhood Taking Tanlac and Praising It, He Declares.

It is indeed doubtful if there is a better known or more highly respected man in Knoxville, Tenn., than C. M. Smith. "Cal," as he is known to his host of friends, has been prominently identified with the ice cream manufacturing business in that city for a number of years, occupying a responsible position with the Mono Ice Cream company. In relating his remarkable experience with Tanlac, Mr. Smith recently said: "About one month ago, I had a severe attack of what the doctors described as acute indigestion, and for several days I was a very sick man. Shortly after eating, one day, I began to experience a very full, uncomfortable feeling in my stomach. I had never had anything like it before and I hope I never will again, for my stomach swelled up so from gas that I could hardly breathe. My hands and feet got cold and clammy and my pulse weak. I felt like I'd gone deep in the world for one good deep breath. I started detoxifying myself, but in spite of the medicine I took, I continued to get worse and begun to think my time had come. "A friend of mine told me about this Tanlac and I sent and got a bottle and started taking it. Well, sir, you can believe it or not, but I began to improve from the very start. By the end of the week I was all straightened out again and now that I've taken three bottles, I feel like a new man. I have forgotten all about the indigestion and can eat just anything I want. "Tanlac just beats anything I ever saw. Nearly everybody in my neighborhood is taking Tanlac and they are all praising it. "Tanlac is sold in Chattanooga exclusively by the Live and Let Live Drug Co.
